

Accessibility and ADA Compliance

Notice of Non-Discrimination

Hardin-Simmons University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, or genetic information in its programs and activities. In accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990, its amendments in 2008, and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, no qualified person will be denied access to, participation in, or the benefits of any program or activity operated by the University because of a disability. HSU recognizes a student with a disability as anyone who has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities.

Commitment to Equal Access

Hardin-Simmons University is committed to providing equal access for all students to all educational programs and campus activities. This commitment to all students includes those who take courses online or via affiliated distance education programs. HSU is committed to making every possible effort to ensure all electronic and information resources developed, procured, maintained, or used are accessible to individuals with disabilities.

Mission of the Office of Disability Services

The Office of Disability Services recognizes disability as a valued aspect of diversity and embraces access as an opportunity for hospitality, equity, and social justice. The office works to create inclusive and sustainable learning and engagement through universally designed environments and to facilitate access, discourse, collaboration, training, and innovative programming.
